Festivals add colour to our life. Each festival has its own importance and meaning.

The students and staff of St. Montfort School celebrated the festivals of EidUlAdha and Rakshabandhan on 10th August 2019.

EidUlAdha is a Muslim festival that basically marks the end of hajj or Pilgrimage to Makka. This Eid is also known as the Eid of Sacrifice and it commemorates the faith of Ibrahim and devotion to Allah.

The assembly began with Quran recitation. The students depicted the holy incident in the history of Islam through a skit presentation. The story was followed by festive songs and dance performed energetically. They greeted the entire assembly EID MUBARAK.

To bring out the importance of the bond of love between brother and sister, the students presented a soulful assembly consisting of songs, dances and skit. The melodious songs and apt theme depiction aroused the feelings of sisterhood and brotherhood and left many teary eyed.

Principal, Rev. Brother Monachan, asked the students to understand the real meanings that the festivals represent and to uphold the values of love, care, sacrifice, faith and respect all through their lives. He blessed the students and wished them a happy Eid and loving Rakshabandhan.
